LeadingAge RI is pleased to collaborate with LeadingAge Nebraska in offering this webinar.

About this webinar

Foodservice talk is a language in itself but is central to the effect on the facility's bottom line, especially given the fallout posed by the pandemic, supply chain disruptions, and inflation. Join us for an honest discussion as to how facility leaders can manage dining systems to streamline costs, find workforce efficiencies, and offer an excellent dining experience. This is a great opportunity for facility leaders and dining directors to come together to make a difference.

Speakers

Julie Halfpop RDN, LD, Director of Nutrition Services, Martin Bros. Distributing, Inc. Julie Halfpop is the team leader of 7 dietitians who provide menu and other value-added services to senior living and healthcare foodservice customers. Passionate about the senior living industry, Julie has devoted almost 35 years to inspiring excellence in dining. Having managed food and nutrition departments, she challenges her team daily to develop and administer tools and services that will promote successful management of the industry's opportunities and challenges. Her favorite topics of conversation revolve around menus, developing marketable dining experiences, controlling costs, and coaching staff. She is a graduate of Iowa State University with a B.S. in Food & Nutrition/Dietetics and has a long history of teaching the Dietary Manager courses, public speaking, and a creative approach to serving others.

Matt Reich, Key Account Manager, Martin Bros. Distributing, Inc. Matt has been a Key Account Manager with Martin Bros. for 8 years. Previously he was Director of Operations at a restaurant. Matt is a graduate of Iowa State University.
